Ohio Methodist Bishop Hazen G. Werner of Columbus was the principal speaker at the dedication services of the Columbiana Methodist Church's new $200,000 addition Sunday afternoon.

er of Steubenville, district superintendent; the Rev. William S. Longworth, pastor; Bishop Werner, and Robert Maurer, chairman of the building fund committee.

Mrs. Anderson is president of the church's Women's Society of Christian Service.

A modernistic chapel is a feature of the church annex, work on which was begun a year ago. The S. Main St. building also includes 12 classrooms, a kitchenette, parlor and other rooms. The original church was built in 1925 and this was the first addition.

2 Convicts Stabbed To Death at State Prison In Georgia

REIDSVILLE, Ga. (AP) — Two convicts were stabbed to death, and two others were wounded early today in an outbreak of violence at the big State Prison here.

The riot was quelled quickly when guards rushed to the barracks after hearing shouts and then cries of pain.

Dead were: Gordon Rex Andrews, 22, serving seven years from Blackley County on burglary convictions.

Gerald Frost, 22, under sentence totaling 13 years from Glynn County for a long string of burglaries.

The wounded: Tommy Gay, 36, under sentence for robbery by force. John David Williamson, 19, serving burglary and auto theft sentences.

Jack Forrester, state corrections director, said preliminary investigation indicates that only the four were involved in the violence. He said they used crude knives fashioned from kitchen instruments.

Barefoot Killer of 3 Women Sought

ASHLAND, Ala. (AP) — The bodies of three women in a gospel-singing family lay in a morgue today while officers searched for a barefoot killer who stabbed them with a razor-sharp kitchen knife.

A 10-inch knife and bloody footprints leading out of the house gave investigators meager clues. The estranged husband of one victim was jailed for questioning, but insisted he knew nothing of the ghastly weekend killing of his wife, her mother and invalid grandmother. He was held without charge.

His wife, Mrs. John D. Martin,

31, had been stabbed 123 times and her throat slashed in what Sheriff Paul G. Levie said evidently was a savage struggle. The body of Mrs. Martin's mother, Ethel Ogle, 63, lay face up on a bed. Her throat had been slashed and she had been stabbed several times.

On another bed lay the grandmother, Everlena Ogle, 82, stabbed 18 times. The sheriff said the grandmother, unable to walk, apparently managed to make only a feeble attempt to ward off the blows.

Officers found the knife wrapped in a bedspread near the body of Ethel Ogle.

Public Safety Director Floyd Mann described the slaughter as the work of a "sadistic killer or one bent on revenge." Officers discounted robbery as a motive because Ethel Ogle's purse, containing $40, was still in the room when another daughter, Mrs. Marvin Brown, discovered the bodies Sunday.

Mrs. Brown's home is only a few hundred yards from the five-room house where her mother and grandmother lived alone. Mrs. Martin, who worked at a textile mill in nearby Talladega, was

Canfield Pair Hurt When Auto Upsets

Two Canfield youths were injured when a car driven by Dominic Barbero, 15, of Canfield, left the highway on Route 62 several miles north of Canfield and overturned on its top Sunday at 2:45 p.m.

The boy suffered a possible broken right arm and a passenger, Patricia McGuire, 17, received a sprained neck and right leg, state highway patrol reported.

Barbero was cited into court on charges of no driver's license and unsafe operation of a motor vehicle.

The car was damaged considerably.

Drunken Driver Fined $150, Jailed 3 Days

Gene Daniel Boals, 30, of Pine Lake Rd., RD 1, Salem, was fined $150 and given a three-day jail sentence by Mayor Dean Cranmer for driving while intoxicated.

Police said Boals was traveling at a high rate of speed when he was picked up at 3:50 a.m. Sunday on S. Lincoln Ave.

Gerald R. Cameron, 26, of 639 Cedar St., was fined $15 Saturday for operating an uncovered trash truck. He was also ordered to obtain a chauffeur's license by Oct. 10.

Nation Needs Nixon's Leadership, Flemming Tells County GOP Rally

Declares Kennedy Distorts Record In His Talks

"Because the Nation and Free World are at the Crossroads," Dr. Arthur S. Flemming, secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, urged fellow Republicans Saturday night at Lisbon to use every opportunity to persuade independent and undecided voters in the next 40 days that the nation and free world will benefit from Richard M. Nixon's leadership.

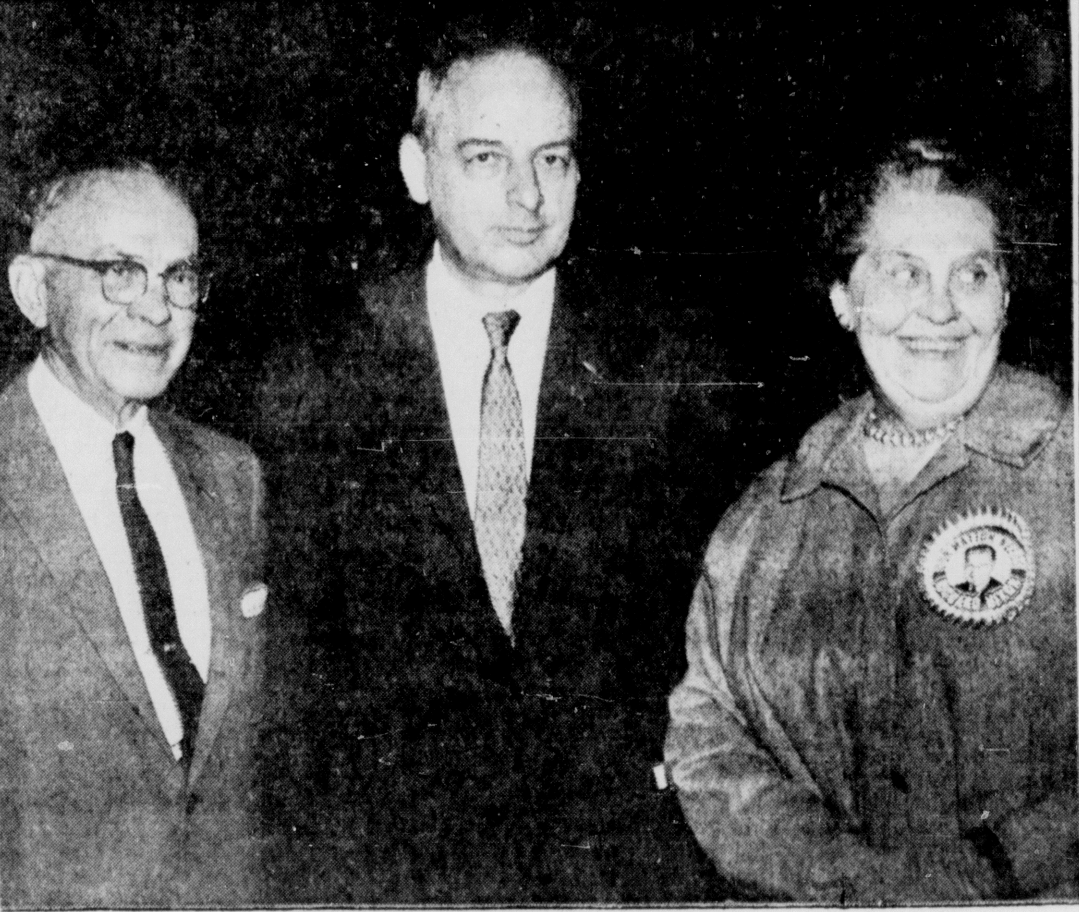

Addressing a countywide GOP rally at the Fairgrounds, Dr. Flemming reiterated the belief in a close election by saying: "We must do it to win."

Some 400 Republicans braved 45 degree temperatures, huddling in coats and blankets in the grandstand, while others remained in the comparative warmth of their cars, to hear the address by the cabinet officer and former president of Ohio Wesleyan University. An estimated 1,500 attended the ox roast which preceded Dr. Flemming's talk.

Morton to Speak Oct. 20

During the program it was announced Sen. Thurston B. Morton, Republican national chairman, will be the principal speaker at a party dinner Oct. 20 at Beaver Local High School.

In his talk, Dr. Flemming lashed at Sen. John Kennedy for "deliberately and persistently distorting the record in discussing medical care for the aged, 'shooting from the hip' on international affairs

30 Summoned For Jury Duty

Criminal Trials To Begin Next Week

LISBON — A venire of 30 prospective jurors for petit jury duty has been summoned to report at 9 a.m. next Monday at the Court-house by Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard who will hear criminal trials this term.

The first case to be heard is that of William H. Thomas, 44, of Wellsville, who was indicted by the recalled April Grand Jury in June for assault with intent to rape. He allegedly grabbed a Wellsville woman at a Wellsville street intersection, dragged her to his parked car and attempted to rape her.

Hundreds Flee In Panic

Mystery Bomb Injures Seven In Times Square

NEW YORK (AP)—A mystery bomb exploded in the heart of the Times Square area Sunday, injuring seven persons and sending hundreds fleeing in panic.

The bomb, containing black powder, went up with a roar heard for blocks. Sunday strollers were bowled over and showered with dirt, stones and hedge twigs.

Two taxicabs parked nearby were covered with earth. The drivers were away eating. Police believe the bomb was the work of a crank.

The explosion followed two bomb scares and the discovery of a live hand grenade in Central Park.

A telephone warning that a bomb would explode in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel led to a search of many of the hotel's 2,500 rooms. No bomb was found. A number of national leaders here for the United Nations sessions have been staying at the hotel.

The grenade, a practice bomb filled with gunpowder, was found by a gardener in Central Park

High Court Begins New Term Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court reassembles today to begin a new term which could be one of the busiest and most difficult in the tribunal's long history.

By tradition, today's session was limited to brief opening formalities. After a week of conferences, the court will announce next Monday which of many new appeals it will hear, and then will start hearing cases already scheduled.

The justices face a docket crowded with appeals already numbering nearly 1,000. Veteran observers say this is an all-time high.

In its last term the court agreed to hear 100 appeals—another high—in the argument sessions beginning Oct. 10. Listening to these arguments could occupy the justices up to mid-March.

Included in the 100 appeals due for final decisions are cases in such sensitive areas as state birth control laws, Sunday blue laws, use of union dues for political purposes, refusal to serve a Negro passenger at a segregated bus terminal restaurant, and tailoring of a city's boundaries to eliminate Negro voters.

Once again the court tackles the constitutionality of a requirement that the Communist party must register with the government as a subversive organization dominated by the Soviet Union, and of a clause of the Smith anti-Communist law making it a crime knowingly to belong to an organization that advocates violent overthrow of government.

Kennedy Flails Away at Nixon

Plans Over Dozen Stops In Illinois

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy, an oratorical boxer who has suddenly developed into a slugger, tore into Richard M. Nixon again today.

He said the vice president is talking nonsense when he says Republicans and Democrats have similar goals for his country.

Kennedy's busy schedule called for a day-long hunt, by motorcade and by airplane, for Illinois' 27 electoral votes.

The Democratic presidential nominee had more than a dozen stops in central and southern Illinois before flying into Chicago to spend the night.

In remarks he prepared for delivery here, Kennedy said:

"Mr. Nixon says he agrees with me on our goals for America, but differs on the means to reach those goals. I say this is nonsense."

"The goal is meaningless if he refuses to take the only road that will reach it."

Kennedy contended that only a Democrat can lead this country forward.

Kennedy's direct attack on his Republican opponent seems to be a part of a new strategy.

Throughout a non-stop weekend Kennedy flailed away at Nixon.

The audiences seemed to love it. Especially one member of his St. Louis audience Sunday night, champion word slinger Harry S. Truman.

The former president enjoyed particularly Kennedy's remark that he noticed Nixon recently called him "another Truman."

"I regard that as a great compliment," Kennedy said. "But observing the content of Mr. Nixon's campaign, I have no hesitation in returning the compliment. I consider him another Dewey."

This reference to Thomas E. Dewey, who was upset by Truman in the 1948 presidential election, got cheers from the 1,450 Democratic faithful who chipped in $100 each for the dinner.

Again Asks U.N. Secretary To Quit Post

Eisenhower Rejects Neutrals' Proposal For 'Big 2' Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Soviet Premier Khrushchev today challenged Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold to resign. He threatened to refuse to recognize U.N. decisions unless the world organization's peace-making machinery is revised.

Khrushchev, addressing the Assembly under "right of reply" procedure, unleashed a new, heavy attack on Hammarskjold. He is seeking to replace the secretary-general with a three-man executive with veto powers.

"To avoid misinterpretation, I want to affirm that we do not trust Mr. Hammarskjold and cannot trust him," Khrushchev said. "If he himself does not muster up enough courage to resign, so to say, in a chivalrous manner, then we shall draw up the necessary conclusions from the obtaining situation."

"It is not proper for a man who has flouted elementary justice to hold such an important post as that of secretary-general."

The Khrushchev attack came as the General Assembly's 98 members waited expectantly for new efforts to bring Khrushchev together with President Eisenhower. The U.S. President indicated Sunday night he is not ready for such a meeting in view of Soviet behavior.

Khrushchev rejected the idea of a meeting with President Eisenhower unless there was what he called a desire to reach agreement on the part of the President.

"Some say that Khrushchev and Eisenhower should be locked in a room and kept there until they reach an agreement on disarmament," but this, of course, is naive," he observed.

"We may sit together indefinitely, but if no desire to come to agreement is evinced by the President, and particularly by those quarters that back him, no smoke will come from the chimney as is the tradition when a Pope is elected."

Khrushchev, in one of his swift moves, put his name on the list of speakers in the Assembly this morning. He took the action before word reached him of Eisenhower's refusal to talk directly with him "in present circumstances."

In a letter addressed to the five neutralist leaders who asked for the meeting in a resolution, Eisenhower said: "There is nothing in the words or actions of the government of the Soviet Union which gives me any reason to believe

Many GE Plants Open as Usual Despite Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — The "business as usual" sign was up in many of the struck General Electric Co. plants across the nation today. The striking International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE), however, has warned its members not to work without a contract.

The brunt of the strike, which began at midnight Saturday, was not felt until today when the plants were scheduled to open. None of the 55 plants in which the IUE has 70,000 members operates Sundays.

James B. Carey, union president, sent notices to all local Sunday, instructing members not to perform any work except essential maintenance until a contract was in effect in their plants.

But a GE spokesman predicted that more than 10,000 union members would report for work today.

No negotiations are under way now. The strike resulted from union dissatisfaction with a GE wage offer in a proposed three-year contract and GE's refusal to continue a cost-of-living escalator clause from the old pact.

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Steelmaking Rate Expected to Continue

CLEVELAND (AP)—Steel Magazine reported today it is looking for the steelmaking percentage rate to continue in the mid-fifties during most of October.

Steel said the upturn in orders is mainly seasonal, coming from new model production in the automotive and appliance industries.

What's more, Steel reported, tin plate is going into a slump that will partly offset season gains for cold rolled sheets.

The journal said steelmakers look for October sales and shipments to top last month's by 5 or 10 per cent, with a comparable gain in ingot production.

Last week's operating rate of 54.2 per cent, a drop of one-tenth of a percentage point from the previous week's rate, resulted in production of about 1,545,000 ingot tons. September's operating rate averaged 52.5 per cent compared with 54.2 percent in August, while September's production was 6.4 million tons compared with 6.8 million tons in August.

This year's total is 80.4 million tons, up eight million tons from the same period last year.

Steel said marketing men are predicting further gains for November and December. The ingot rate will probably average no more than 65 per cent. Assuming fourth quarter output of 24 million ingot tons, the year's total will be about 104 million tons compared with 93.4 million last year.

The magazine reported service centers have cut their inventories from 3.8 million tons to 3.4 million since June.

Steel said fourth quarter inventory reduction probably won't be more than one million tons.

Folding Partition Conveniently Adapted to Modern-Day Living

Folding partitions are growing steadily in popularity because they are an important tool for the home designer, as well as an important space saver for the home owner.

Because of its flexibility and its space-saving characteristics, the folding partition is conveniently adapted to modern day living. It enables certain rooms to be used for more than one function, thereby reducing the cost of the house.

A folding partition is a wall or a large portion of a wall between two rooms or spaces which can be almost completely opened up by having sections of it fold up against each other.

The partition moves along a track, usually at the top, to one side or another, or both. A segment of a folding partition also can be used as a substitute for doors or closet fronts.

Many Varieties
There are more than 25 varieties of folding partitions on the market and they can be divided into three basic types.

A popular type and perhaps heading the list is the accordion partition. It is constructed of light steel frames, which are in the shape of an "X," fastened together and performing in scissors-like fashion. The frame is covered with a vinyl fabric which comes in an extensive range of colors and textures.

Another type is made up of wood slats, about six inches wide, which fold together so that only the ends of the slats are showing when the partition is completely open.

When this partition is closed, it looks like a flush wall of wood with vertical joints and closely resembles wood siding. Nearly any kind of wood could be specified for this type of folding partition in order to fit an interior decor.

New Type Available
Recently introduced is a fairly new type of folding partition, made of composition board or plywood in sections from 12 inches to 16 inches wide. These panels may be painted, covered with a fabric or left in their natural color.

An unusual effect can be obtained by painting the vertical panels in different colors or in different shades of a single color. This type of folding partition is particularly well adapted to large closet fronts. In this case, the panels extend from floor to ceiling and, when closed, appear to be a paneled wall.

Samuel Paul, a prominent New York architect, frequently uses folding partitions in his residential designs and feels they can become an ingenious tool for creating new effects in home planning.

Paul says:
"The activities in today's house are more varied and complex than ever before. Instead of dividing the house into a series of separate rooms for each activity, the open plan has evolved whereby spaces flow together, giving an effect of largeness and erasing any feeling of confinement."

Privacy is Created
"However, there are occasions when it is desirable to close up some of these spaces for the purpose of privacy. Yet to have the spaces permanently closed would create a tight and inflexible plan. Here is where the folding partition serves a very substantial purpose."

There are many uses of folding partitions, which may be put, Paul lists the following as some of their major uses:

A dining room, which may merge with the living room, could be closed off for short periods when dishes are being removed or the table is being set.

In the case of a den or a television room adjacent to the living room, a whole wall may be opened up for entertainment purposes. Closed, it enables the family to look at television without interfering with living room activities.

One of the most convenient spots for the folding partition perhaps is between the family room and its adjacent spaces, whether they be the kitchen, the living room or the foyer.

Opened for Youngsters
When the teen-agers are entertaining in this area, it is desirable to have it closed off. But when the younger children are playing here, it should be opened for full view so that supervision is made easy.

An ideal arrangement perhaps for the folding partition is its use as a closet front. In this way, it not only conserves space but it also gives complete access to the closet.

Used as a closet front, a folding partition can conveniently extend from floor to ceiling and from door jamb to door jamb, thereby saving a great deal of the usual framing.

"Although the folding partition is a step forward towards a more flexible design," Paul says, "it is anticipated that they will advance even further in that direction. In addition to spaces being opened up to each other, partitions will be movable as well as folding—thereby adjusting the sizes of all rooms to one's particular needs."

Building Permits

Quakertown Inc., local contractors, took out five building permits this past week, preparatory to the construction of five new homes on Southeast Blvd.

All of the dwellings are to be in the $11,500 to $12,000 price range and will be located in the 2100 block.

Other building permits issued during the last two weeks include the following:

Ed Shoff, 215 W. 12th St., residence, $11,000.

R. W. Boone, 941 Arch St., repair porch, $225.

Wells Vaughters, 1339 E. 10th St., replace porch floor, $400.

C. R. Swartz, 988 Adams St., garage, $900.

Mrs. Mildred Hodge, 552 Washington Ave., remodel attic, $300.

Joe Armeni, 406 S. Broadway, aluminum siding, $900.

Charles Lantz, 648 W. Wilson St., garage and kitchen cabinet, $1,100.

Salona Supply Co., 423 W. Pershing St., repair ceiling, $800.

August Wikman, 240 E. 9th St., garage, $800.

UTILITY AND FACILITY — This is the house for a family that likes a lot of room. It has 1,498 square feet of living space. The three bedrooms are large with plenty of closet space. The kitchen and dining areas are large, too, and the dining area can easily be converted into a family room. Other features: A utility room adjoining the kitchen in case a full cellar is not desired; a lavatory off the utility room easily accessible to youngsters coming in from play. The architect is Elmer Gylleck, P.O. Box 77, 358 East Chicago St., Elgin, Ill., and the plan is HA156G.

Traditional Look In Kitchens Aim of Many Homemakers

The old fashioned look in kitchens is making a comeback. Kitchen appliances are up-to-date to be sure and new colors are vivid, but the traditional look is the aim of many homemakers who are re-decorating or moving into new homes.

Dull - finished wooden cabinets have been popular for a few years and now there is a growing trend to the hand-rubbed hand-crafted look in cabinets. Colorful effects are achieved with tiles, culinary ware, old wall art such as reproductions of antique cookie cutters. The sterile looking kitchen is definitely passe.

EXOTIC COLORS in ceramic tile are making decoration news. Violet, regal blue, tangerine are some of the new hues that are providing inspiration in color schemes. There are new additions in the pink and red group—cherry and vermilion.

Decorated tiles include star designs with inset suggesting jewels, popular where an Oriental feeling is desired. There is also a tufted tile with a concave center that create a quilted effect on the wall. Sheets of these tiles may be installed with adhesive or mortar. Tiles are being combined with glass for interesting effects with light.

MANY OF THE HAND-rubbed cabinets are made of oak or are veneered woods. The hand-crafted look is accomplished with a desired stain, sanding and rubbing. Its patina grows with time as it is polished.

The trend to the old-fashioned look in cabinets has brought the hand-rubbed sawbuck table back to many kitchens. These tables are ideal for many occasions, luncheon and dinner with the children, the late supper for the man of the house. When the family cannot eat together the dining room doesn't need to be disturbed.

A HOMEY LOOK is what everyone desires in the kitchen. If gives the cook a desire to spend more time there. The combinations of the modern effects in colorful accessories and vivid wall tiles doesn't detract from the look, but rather enhances it. The old-fashioned kitchen was a work of art but frequently it was drab. Modern techniques blending the old and new can produce some terrific effects.

Lighter woods are combined with bayberry green, mist and willow green, sandalwood and spice tiles.

DARKER WOODS are enriched by some of the brilliant tiles such as tangerine.

Homemakers who have an odd piece of equipment, such as a white washing machine, with new colored appliances have in many instances found appliance people in their community who make a specialty of spraying the old equipment to match the new color scheme. These are hard-to-tell from the rest of the equipment, if the job is done properly.

Here's The Answer

QUESTION: Several months ago I put up studding in our attic with the intention of making a couple of finished rooms, but I never got any further than that. I now have decided to go ahead with the job, using 4 by 8 sheets of plywood for the walls. I read somewhere that excellent pieces of driftwood which we plan to use in various ways around the house. Can you tell us whether this can be varnished to preserve its appearance?

ANSWER: Yes, driftwood takes varnish very nicely. Be sure you like the slightly darker tone the varnish will give it. Try it out first on a small piece of the driftwood, which should be sanded lightly before the varnish is applied.

QUESTION: The other day I discovered a little pile of sawdust on the ground by one of the porch supports of our house. Is this caused by termites?

ANSWER: We'll assume that no one in your family did any sawing in that area and thus produced the sawdust. If that assumption is correct, the sawdust may have resulted from the work of carpenter ants. Unlike termites, they don't consume the wood but bore into it, leaving the sawdust outside. Examine the porch support very closely and see whether there are tiny, slit-like holes in it. If there are, better get an exterminator quickly.

We Wish It Could Be Different

The Soviet Union's proposal to the General Assembly of the United Nations is something like a proposal by burglars to householders that if the latter will quit locking doors and keeping pistols in bureau drawers the former will promise to quit jimmying door locks and using blackjacks.

The advantage would lie with the burglars. The householders, already at a disadvantage, would rob themselves of what little protection they have.

Of course, the Soviet Union does not put its proposal on a burglar-householder basis. It is presented as a quid pro quo between householders who should quit mistrusting each other in a neighborhood feud that has forced everybody to take sides.

But the relationship between the rest of the world and the Soviet Union is not between householders. We wish it could be different, but the truth is the relationship is that of burglar vs. householder.

THE SOVIET UNION and its satellite governments have been passing out circulars about their intention to knock off every unguarded place on earth; the bulletins did not lie.

Communist troublemakers have turned up in trouble spots with the same dependability that typhus shows up in wars and famines.

The Communist Conspiracy has been the bane of every non-Communist government for a generation. Its ideological burglars have tried to pry open every window and break every door lock.

They have been caught red-handed at their depredations so many times it isn't even news any more when they are trapped by their intended victims.

Every government makes a practice of issuing instructions to its people about the detection of Communist operatives and the importance of notifying the police when they are caught.

Capacity Crowds Everywhere

For once in a presidential campaign, even conservative crowd estimators can sleep easy after political rallies.

The presidential campaign of 1960 is shaping up as the greatest crowd gatherer of all time. That is the way it should be. There are more Americans to join campaign crowds than there ever were before.

Yet, there are not more Americans registered to vote, and it is doubtful if more Americans will vote. Until and unless there has been a demonstration to the contrary on Nov. 8, the campaign year of 1960 will be memorable for the number of people who turned out to see the candidates—not the number who turned out to vote for them.

What is the explanation? The easiest part of the explanation is the ever-increasing mobility of the American people. The next easiest part is the ever-increasing mobility of the candidates and their entourages.

It is no special trick any more to assemble a large number of people, thanks to automobiles, stadiums, field-houses and large auditoriums. Public interest in candidates is whetted by the rapidity with which they move about the country. A few hours after television's largest political audience had watched Vice President Nixon and Sen. Kennedy Monday night, both men were off and away to distant points while they were still in the public eye.

But after these easy explanations, there are no more easy ones. A public relations specialist might guess it is because the more people see the more they want to see. There

Once Over

Lincoln-Douglas debates have been wired for sound, distance and photogenic necktie and touched by Aladdin and his wonderful TV lamp.

Early Americans got Abe and Stephen by delayed transmission, with the public getting opinions, but no close-up information on their haircuts, smiles, suit-pressings or holes in shoes.

Once upon a time, a voter had to travel hundreds of miles and fight cops to get a look at a presidential candidate. Now he gets it as easily as a rerun of "The Honey-mooners," "Highway Patrol," or "Victory at Sea."

The race for the presidency, via TV debates, takes on aspects of a contest for the Saratoga Cup, Miss America crown and a race between Sioux and the U.S. Cavalry for the wagon-train escort.

It becomes a matter of make-up, teeth exposure, photogenic laundry and Hollywood mannerisms. There are also elements of quiz shows with the first prize a four-year trip to the White House.

"From Outside Aerial to the White House" could be the slogan. Millions can attend a debate today between presidential candidates while in pajamas on a couch and reading the funnies.

Voters can study candidates just as they study private eyes, trained animals, town marshals and comedians. (Is that good?)

The average man didn't know how Lincoln looked until Abe had been in the White House half his term. To this day few have any idea whether he had any front teeth, matters which are cleared up today with the speed of light by TV.

It is possible for a man to be voted into the White House because he has youthful skin, and is well tailored. He can lose the election because of baggy pants and too many freckles.

This is why the Soviet Union's proposal to disarm all the householders and give its own friends and sympathizers control of the police department cannot be considered seriously.

THE UNITED STATES would be guilty of insanity if it cut down its military protection on nothing but the Soviet Union's promise that it would do the same. In Communist practice, no promise needs to be kept. A promise can be made at any time to fool an opponent of communism. Communists don't even keep promises to one another.

It would be playing the Kremlin's own game of Russian expansionism if the United States abandoned any of its bases or yielded an inch anywhere U.S. security points have been the tight shoe that pinched the Russian foot. All the howling from Moscow has been done about U.S. bases, which is an index to their importance.

As to moving the United Nations somewhere else, the Soviet Union cannot mean this as anything but a jab in the eye. Its prime target is Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld, who affronted the Kremlin by barring it from the Republic of Congo. It is in the process of bargaining for his destruction. That is also the meaning of its proposal to set up a presidium to run U.N. affairs.

If at any time in the future the head bur-reform and talk to householders on an equal basis, the conspirators must sell their burglar tools and demonstrate to the satisfaction of its former victims that Russia has abandoned burglarizing.

The Soviet Union neither has done this nor declared that it intended to do it. Quite the contrary, it now is eyeing the fruitful possibilities of a continental of new African householders.

is no point of satiety in curiosity about men and women in the news.

An old hand in politics might guess it has something to do with a state of disturbance in the public mind. The American people have grown unsettled in their thoughts. Except for the fact the New York Yankees have qualified for another World Series, nothing seems to be the way it used to be.

A presidential campaign with the candidates brought within sight and hearing, is a form of reassurance. Some things are still going on as usual.

And there may be one more thing this year. Both candidates have unusual attractiveness in their person and in their manner. Sen. Kennedy has the additional advantage of being unusually attractive to women, who are now a majority of the population. This helps him, and Mr. Nixon is helped by his reputation as the man who "stood up" to Khrushchev and now is standing up to his opponent on a bad knee.

Whatever the cause, the seats are all filled in 1960, and it is anybody's guess as to standees and overflow crowds outside. Crowd estimators can remember times when even an estimate of 2,000, including dogs, children, newspapermen, ushers and bouncers might have thrown them open to peremptory challenge by a spoilsports who insisted they actually counted only 800.

Butchers in an Ohio town had a golf tournament and entries likely were pretty good, on the slice.

It could be a photo finish if both have 5 o'clock shadow and the public decides they look too much like villains in a "western." (Repairman, fix my set. It KEEPS GETTING CANDIDATES!)"

Cyrus Eaton, money man
Aiding Khrushchev all he can;
Made rich by our system free,
He bids him, "Have lunch with me."

Kadar and such men of hate
Hear, "Please come and don't be late;
"You'll excuse my one bad break—
"I FORGOT TO BAKE A CAKE."

JAMES J. WADSWORTH, Lodge's successor as counter-puncher to the Soviets in the United Nations, played the saxophone in Rudy Vallee's Orchestra in college days or soon after. He also plays the trumpet, banjo and guitar. Why no reply to Khrushchev or Castro speech using all four instruments? A barber threw his arms around Castro but only to hold him while a fellow barber used shears and razor.

Jose Ferrer, who has done everything else in the theater, played a role in Puccini Opera the other night. But can he imitate four Hawaiians?

Khrushchev combines the characteristics of a pudgy comedian, corner delicatessen clerk, quarrelsome salesman, soap-box orator, dictatorial top sergeant and a refugee from a psychiatrist's convention. The United Nations seems to be operating in the Spirit of Camp "Rabid."

The Soviet leader's demand that Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld of the United Nations be fired and replaced by a three-man force, each holding a veto, would mean a settlement of emergency crisis by a hockey team. The U.N. might have to name a secretariat to stop wars in secretariat.

Not You, Stupid!

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Victor Riesel

Somewhere there is almost a million dollars in stolen union funds picked from the pockets and table money budgets of some mighty hard working folk. Neither the presidential campaign nor all the world's statesmen will wipe that story out of mind.

I got on it when four obviously underpaid gunmen pumped lead into the key witness in the case. That was on the night of March 10, 1956. Three weeks later I hit the sidewalk myself and awoke in St. Clare's Hospital.

That million was stolen from the Laundry, Dry Cleaning and Dye House Workers Union.

Senate and federal court record charge that the monetary mayhem was committed on the union's welfare fund by Eugene James, then secretary-treasurer and boss of the outfit.

Except for an ulcer, James seems well and prosperous. Surviving, too, is the witness who got all that lead that night, one Louis Saperstein.

He says he did not receive a dime of the money but that as the insurance broker for the welfare fund he did as he was told and distributed the money as directed. But to whom? Nobody knows.

WHAT BRINGS all this to mind is news from New Jersey courts that Saperstein and James have pleaded guilty. They admitted conspiring to steal $902,000. They'll be sentenced Oct. 26.

Conspiracy is a misdemeanor. Maximum penalty will be three years and a $1,000 fine.

That's an easy touch for James even if he does have to serve another three year term on a conviction in Chicago Federal Court in May 1959. At that time he was sentenced for evading payment of $392,982 in income taxes.

This is what he would have paid if he had declared the money he stole. But he's a whimsical one. He refused to admit stealing the money.

HIS DEFENSE was simple. Even if he had stolen the money, he told "His Honor," it would have been tax free because it was embezzled and not earned income. So he got three years.

Then his attorney asked for mercy because James had been in the labor movement for so many years and had served it well. The rates were high. But the story has one more twist to it.

In his early days James had a patron, a master of all the arts. He was sponsored by James Riddle Hoffa. The Teamsters' provisional president then was a power in Detroit.

James had had some trouble in an AFL local and his charter had been lifted.

He was looking for work. Hoffa helped him set up a juke box union in Detroit in 1947 — which is still being probed by a federal grand jury.

When Hoffa wanted that local for a closer friend, James was easily convinced that he had greater horizons in Chicago, according to Senate records. There the boys helped him into the Laundry International. And he helped himself.

NOT ALL PATRONS find genius in their discoveries. Who can blame James on Jimmy? But Hoffa might show some humility.

After all a million dollars is a lot of money, even in these welfare-pension fund days.

Maybe James will talk to Hoffa. It would be nice if the laundry workers in their steam-bath shops and hot caldron plants could get back some of that money.

It would be a great coup for Hoffa. It would help when he walks into court and asks permission to run his own convention next December in Miami Beach or Chicago, where he says he has hotels under option.

Or better still, perhaps the Teamsters would donate a million to the Laundry Workers. What a great public relations move!

Hypocrisy In U.N.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Dictators Show Contempt for Human Rights

Perhaps no more pointed exhibition of governmental hypocrisy has ever been noted in the history of modern times than the sessions in recent days of the General Assembly of the United Nations.

Here is an organization whose charter specifically proclaims that its main purpose is "to reaffirm faith in fundamental human rights, in the dignity and worth of the human person, in the equal rights of men and women and of nations large and small."

But what has the world witnessed in the proceedings of the assembly?

The ostentatious speechmaking and table-pounding of dictators gathered from far and wide to demonstrate their contempt for human rights and their determination to continue to maintain in bondage tens of millions of human beings.

Fifteen or more dictators have held the limelight — from the uncivilized, boorish Castro to the egomaniacal Khrushchev.

These tyrants have been given television and news space and all the publicity treatment which heroes are wont to receive.

There's nothing wrong with giving news attention to their antics but where is the "equal time" for the champions of human liberty — for the spokesmen who can tell the other side of the controversy to the public at large in countries where the press is still free?

Where are the crusaders for moral force, whose power can influence millions of people eventually to do battle for freedom?

AS IT IS, Nikita Khrushchev makes a speech denouncing colonialism in the West but relatively little is said about the cruel measures he himself has taken to maintain slave colonies in Hungary, in the Ukraine, in Poland, in East Germany and in the other captive countries.

Prime Minister Macmillan made a very forceful speech but it did not go far enough. It called for "self-determination" for the German people but did not remind the Soviets of the slavery imposed on the peoples of eastern Europe.

The Soviet premier, on the other hand, dared to accuse the West of interference in Africa when his own henchmen have been guilty of sending military weapons and planes into the Congo to thwart the peace efforts of the United Nations itself. He boldly denounces the U.N.'s secretary general.

What are the western governments afraid of? Why do they keep on letting Khrushchev take the initiative?

Nothing has ever been lost for the cause of freedom by speaking out plainly. Everything has been lost by being timid in the face of the aggressions of a dictator.

Even after the Soviet premier made his speech the other day and fraternized with Castro and the other dictators, did anybody except the courageous demonstrators on the streets voice the sentiment of the United Nations Charter and demand that, instead of admitting a lot of nations still lacking the capacity for self-government, a public examination should be made of the sincerity and good faith of certain governments already members of the U.N.?

IT IS SICKENING, after reading provision after provision of the United Nations Charter, to realize how flagrantly the words have been disregarded by the Communists in every conceivable kind of violation of human rights.

For instance, in the charter these paragraphs appear:

"All members... shall fulfill in good faith the obligations assumed by them in accordance with the present charter."

"All members... shall refrain from giving assistance to any state against which the United Nations is taking preventive or enforcement action."

"A member of the United Nations which has persistently violated the principles contained in the present charter may be expelled from the organization by the General Assembly upon the recommendation of the Security Council."

It's true the Soviet government holds a veto in the Security Council, but who among the Western spokesmen has called for a revision of the charter so that an accused country shall not be permitted, as a matter of procedure, to vote in the council during its trial at the bar of justice?

Surely there is not much use arguing about the fine points of the "Connally reservation" and the jurisdiction of a world court to settle disputes when the U.N. General Assembly itself — the most important forum yet devised in international relations — repeatedly passes up an opportunity to strike a blow for human freedom against the savagery and tyranny of the dictatorship states in the world today.

The New York Herald Tribune

Soviet Subs Active

By OMER ANDERSON

KIEL, WEST GERMANY Nikita Khrushchev's pilgrimage to the United Nations has produced the greatest Soviet submarine activity of the cold war in the North Atlantic and off the North American continent.

An estimated 80 Soviet subs have been tallied passing from the Baltic into the North Atlantic in the last three weeks. This is easily the peak number of Soviet sub sightings for any similar period.

Moreover, West German navy sources state that the North Atlantic Treaty Organization count of "unidentified" (and therefore presumed to be Russian) submarines in the North Atlantic is at an all-time high.

The precise number is classified but informants indicated NATO put the figure on "more than 300" counting the Caribbean and U.S. coastal waters.

By NATO agreement, the German navy monitors Soviet submarine activity in the Baltic in cooperation with Denmark. The detection apparatus aims at picking up Russian undersea craft as they leave or enter the Baltic.

Each sighting is reported to NATO naval headquarters in London, where a master plotting board is maintained for Soviet submarine movements in the North Atlantic.

Atlantic alliance experts say that the concentration of Soviet subs is partly a "show the flag" gesture connected with Mr. K's U.N. trip and partly an ominous Soviet submarine exercise timed to take advantage of "Exercise Sword Thrust," the six-nation NATO naval war games in the North Atlantic.

The stepped-up Soviet submarine activity is notable for the appearance of auxiliary vessels, principally tankers.

At least five Russian naval tankers have been observed in the North Atlantic, West German informants revealed.

The tankers obviously are attached to submarine packs operating in the area.

One Russian tanker was observed 400 miles east of Cape Grace, Newfoundland by a U.S. Navy P2V Neptune Patrol Aircraft.

This particular tanker carried a helicopter, apparently for detection of U.S. submarines and other U.S. naval vessels.

It is also known the Russians have converted some large fishing factory ships as auxiliary tankers.

THE EGG AND US — Last year, income from poultry and eggs slipped to nine per cent of farmers' gross income from their products; in 1958 it was 10 per cent. Deason, says the Agriculture Dept., was declining prices for eggs and poultry meat. So far in 1960, prices average higher than last year and are likely to continue higher. States in which poultry provides the largest share of farm income are in the Northeast and in the Southeast broiler belt, and in Utah.

Boys Club Solves Delinquency Problem In Ohio Community

By DAVID HUNTER Cincinnati Enquirer Reporter CINCINNATI (AP)—Other towns may note the success a man with drive and a little community spirit can have.

In 1951, Jim O'Leary of nearby Norwood thought: "All this juvenile delinquency—why not give boys something to busy themselves with and stop it before it starts?"

Today, thanks to contributions from residents and merchants, 35 boys from 12 to 17 years old are staying out of trouble at the Norwood Boys Club under O'Leary's direction.

They govern themselves, vote on what to do and where to go, undertake projects to help support the club, make excursions, learn safe handling of boats and weapons, and grow in civic responsibility.

A few days ago, Judge Benjamin Schwartz of Juvenile Court, Sheriff Dan Tehan, and city fathers gathered to salute the club after Ohio granted it a non-profit charter.

"A fine record," said the judge, "not one case of juvenile delinquency is in our records involving a member of the Norwood Boys Club."

O'Leary, now a staffer on the Norwood Enterprise, a community newspaper, formerly was superintendent of boys at Glenview Correctional School, Glendale, and at Covington, Ky., children's home. He started the club with eight boys, age nine to 11.

At their first meeting—they recall it reluctantly—they made pot-holders on frames borrowed from the Girl Scouts and crayoned pages torn from a coloring book.

"Then," O'Leary said, "the Norwood Business and Professional Women's Club voted us $25 and we were in business."

Today, the club owns a 14-foot outboard motor boat and is making payments on a new station wagon. It has the use of a camp near Moscow, Ohio, and of a school gymnasium, and trades chores around a Moose Lodge for a meeting place there Friday evenings.

In August, O'Leary took 10 boys on a 10-day excursion to Florida at a cost of $65 each. He wrote the mayor of each city on the itinerary and received replies offering camping sites, tours of the city, and sometimes even free tickets to amusements.

The club discovered the framework of an old hut on property in Moscow owned by Mr. and Mrs.

Harry Miller, Norwood. The Millers permitted them to use it, and O'Leary and his boys rebuilt the hut walls and roof, and plastered and painted it.

Now they have a recreation room, kitchen and two dormitories for use on weekends. Last year they held a Christmas party there.

Nearby is the club's rifle range, but youths must pass a hunter's safety course given by the National Rifle Association and the Ohio Department of Conservation before they're allowed to handle weapons. Likewise, they must take a U. S. Coast Guard safety course before using the club's boat.

If those in the community who have taken an interest continue to help, the club soon may be able to erase its $1,400 in debts and enlarge memberships, O'Leary said.

Teacher for Retarded Children Announced

The committee for the nursery class for Retarded Children announces that Mrs. Robert S. Dunn of 605 E. 8th St. will be the teacher of the class this year. The committee will meet Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the YWCA. Any interested persons are invited to attend.

Mrs. Dunn, who has been a member of the committee since its beginning last fall, has had years of experience working in the nursery school, which she conducts mornings at First United Presbyterian Church.

There is some question whether there will be enough children enrolled to make a nursery class practical this winter. Anyone knowing of a child in this part of Columbiana County who would benefit by attending the class, is urged to contact Mrs. Dunn at ED 2-5387 or Mrs. Starbuck at ED 7-6215.

The class meets Tuesday and Thursday in the afternoon at the YWCA.

Dear M.J.A.: Of course I will. Don't I always? I know of no code of ethics for gum chewers but I agree there is need for one in American culture, so here's a start:

help your newspaperboy win a trip to Brazil as a Junior Reporter

A visit to a ranch—with an outdoor barbecue, songs around a campfire and gauchos showing off their expert horsemanship—is also included in the itinerary.

Spectacular is the word for the architecture of the exotic buildings in Brazil's modern new capital city, Brasilia.

Sao Paulo, South America's greatest industrial center, is also the center of a vast coffee-producing region. More coffee flows through Sao Paulo than any other city in the world.

An unforgettable sight is the towering statue of Christ, which the "Junior Reporters" will visit, high atop Corcovado Mountain.

travel, fun,
adventure—
it's the trip of a lifetime!

What a great treat is in store for one of our carrierboys, perhaps the one who delivers your newspaper. Imagine! Sightseeing in New York! An exciting jet flight to Rio on Varig Airlines' magnificent new Boeing 707 Intercontinental Jet! A fun-packed tour of Brazil! The thrill of writing a story about the trip and seeing it appear in the newspaper under his own byline!

When your newspaperboy calls at your home to explain how you can help him win, welcome him. Your interest may be just the encouragement he needs to make his trip to Brazil come true.

assistance but who are unable to pay medical bills.

Dr. Fleming said the bill passed at the last session of Congress is a step in this direction, making available $142,000,000 of additional federal funds for these purposes.

"Here is the way in which the new law will operate," he said:

The states will determine the persons who can qualify for benefits under the program. Each state may apply any test it desires to apply.

The states will then decide what hospital, medical, and surgical benefits are to be made available to the aged who qualify.

The federal government will make available whatever funds it is necessary to make available in order to pay from 50 to 80 percent of the cost of these benefits—the exact percentage to be determined on the basis of the per capita income of each state.

Federal funds to get this program started will be available Oct. 1st.

Dr. Fleming was introduced by Atty. Charles Pike, party vice president. The cabinet officer was escorted from Pittsburgh Airport by Ernest U. Whitacre, county GOP chairman, and Mrs. Leha Astor, 18th district GOP committeewoman.

Dick Groat Captures National League Batting Crown

Pirate Ace Closes With .325 To Edge Norm Larker of Dodgers

By ED WILKS Associated Press Sports Writer

Putting first things first at the finish, the first-place Pittsburgh Pirates roll into their first World Series in 33 years with their first batting champion in two decades after winning 95 games in a National League season for the first time since 1925.

One week after clinching their first flag since 1927, the beat 'em Bucs wrapped up the regular season with a 9-5 victory over the second-place Milwaukee Braves Sunday. They did it by whipping Lew Burdette, blocking his bid for a third consecutive 20-victory season and completing a somewhat fantastic rout against two of the best pitchers in the NL.

Dick Groat, back in the line-up for the final two games and feeling no pain in his injured left wrist, was 1-for-4 in the finale and finished with a .325 batting average. That gave the sparkplug shortstop the first batting championship to be won by a Pirate since Debs Garms hit .335 in 1940.

Norm Larker of the Los Angeles Dodgers was 1-for-3 and finished second at .323 as the 1959 world champions defeated the Chicago Cubs 4-3. Willie Mays of San Francisco had two hits in five trips, one his 29th home run, and finished third at .319 as the Giants beat the third-place St. Louis Cardinals 8-2.

Last-place Philadelphia finished with a three-game sweep over Cincinnati, beating the sixth-place Reds 6-1.

Beaver, Canfield Backs Run Wild North Lima Whips F-W In Inter-County Tilt

North Lima and Canfield took over undisputed possession of first place in the Inter-County League and Turnpike Conference, respectively, by chalking up grid victories Saturday.

The brilliant running of Roger Cooley, who scored five touchdowns, led North Lima to a 44-12 win over Fairfield-Waterford. Another scabbard, Jim Alcott, tallied four touchdowns for Canfield as the Cards smashed Springfield Local 28-16.

Little Ron McLaughlin of independent Beaver Local, who is running away with scoring honors in Columbiana County, added 20 more points to his total Saturday as he paced the undefeated Beavers to a 24-8 victory over Salineville. McLaughlin has now racked up 70 points in the Beavers' four wins this season.

Western Reserve of the Inter-County League suffered a 58-16 pasting at the hands of Aurora. The Inter-County League now shows North Lima on top with a 3-0 record, followed by Lowellville, 2-0, and McDonald, 1-0.

Canfield is on top in the Turnpike Conference with a 2-0 loop record. Warren St. Mary's, the only other unbeaten team, is 1-0.

Eagles Wear Down Bobcats In Second Half

Hanna's Two TD Passes Pace United to Win Over Greenford

By BOB JULIAN

United High's Golden Eagles displaying a staunch defense and a well-balanced running and passing attack scored a 20-0 victory over winless Greenford Saturday afternoon on the victors' turf.

The Golden Eagles evened out their season's record at 2-2, while hapless Greenford dropped its fourth straight.

A very effective defensive unit, led by tackles Glen (Whitey) Willis and Pete Schweigert stopped the Bobcat threats at every turn. Willis mowed down 12 enemy ball carriers and Schweigert smashed 13. Willis now has 55 tackles in four tilts.

Larry Marks, a power driving fullback, and shifty quarterback John Hanna were the keys to the United offense. Marks raced for 104 yards in 11 carries and one touchdown and Hanna passed for the other two Golden Eagle scores besides carrying the pigskin for 22 yards in five tries.

BOTH CLUBS could do very little with each other in the first period but it was Greenford, with big Gerald Arnold doing the running, that was grinding out the most yardage. The first period ended with the Bobcats in possession of the ball on United's 39 yard line.

After a scoreless first quarter, the talented Hanna hit Metzgar with a pass on the Bobcat 40 yard line and the speedy back raced the remaining distance to score. The play covered 71 yards. Bob Koerlin's attempted kick after the score was short and the score was 6-0 in favor of United with about eight minutes left until intermission.

The Bobcats were the best producing team in the first half as they churned out 102 yards on the ground and 37 yards via the airways, as compared to 52 yards rushing and the TD pass of 71 yards for United. Greenford also led in first downs 6-2.

The second half was another story as the Bobcats were stymied at every point. The United defense limited Greenford only 30 yards rushing in the second half, while the Golden Eagles racked up 185 for themselves.

IN THE THIRD PERIOD Marks scampered 59 yards, twisting and turning his way to the promised land. In this drive, which started at the beginning of the third stanza, Coach Ray Russell's crew fumbled the ball twice and recovered each time. Hanna pitched a strike to end Jim Sturgeon for the two points to give United a 14-0 advantage.

United dominated play in the third stanza as Greenford had the ball only five times and chalked up only one yard rushing.

In the final period United demonstrated its fine running attack once more. On a triple hand off, Hanna to Marks to DeVille, the speedy Deville scooted 26 yards to the Bobcat 22 yard stripe. On two consecutive option plays in which Hanna elected to keep the ball, the Eagles moved to the Greenford four yard line. DeVille then took a handoff from Hanna and fumbled the pigskin into the air only to have it picked off by Kenny Paulin of Greenford.

THE BOBCATS could not move and United once more got possession. After a 12 yard run by Dan Jenkins, the arm of Hanna once more was death to the Bobcats as he passed his second TD of the day, this time 11 yards to DeVille who was waiting all alone in the left corner of the end zone. The run for the extra point failed and United had its second victory, 20-0 with only seconds remaining.

Greenford was a different ball club from the one that was stopped, 80-14 by West Branch last week. Coach Harry Frankland's boys were hitting the line harder and tackling with more zest. Guard Richard Smith was the sparkplug of the Bobcat line as he stopped 11 United ball carriers.

Next Friday Greenford will travel to Northwestern, Pa. in quest of its initial victory.

United will journey to rugged Beaver Local on Saturday.

West Branch Gets 40-12 Win

Joe Meissner Races For 3 Touchdowns

Coach Ralph Zurbrugg's mighty West Branch Warriors racked up their third victory in four starts Saturday by slaughtering Sandusky St. Mary's, 40-12, on the loser's home field.

Joe Meissner ran wild for West Branch, racing for three touchdowns. Tom Baxter chipped in with two TD gallops.

Quarterback Chuck Wilson raced 30 ards for another West Branch score and also hit Dave Knoedler with a 60-yard scoring pass.

Baxter and Tim Sanders each added extra points on runs.

Sandusky St. Mary's, which is still looking for its first victory of the season, was shut out by the strong West Branch defense until the home club managed to push across two touchdowns in the final period.

West Branch led 18-0 at halftime and spurred to a 38-0 lead with 20 big markers in the third quarter.

West Branch will return to Salem's Reilly Stadium Saturday to take on McDonald of the Inter-County League.

Browns, Giants Win Pro Grid Battles

By MIKE RATHET Associated Press Sports Writer

Quarterback George Shaw, longtime heir apparent to a front-line job after serving his National Football League apprenticeship under two pass masters, is making a determined bid for the top berth with the Eastern Division champion New York Giants.

The 27-year-old veteran of six pro campaigns came off the bench with New York trailing 7-0 in the second period and threw four touchdown passes as the Giants walloped the St. Louis Cardinals 35-14 for their second victory without a loss.

Shaw, the understudy to Baltimore's amazing Johnny Unitas before being traded to the Giants, took over for another tutor—aging and ailing Charley Conerly—after the Cardinals had forged ahead on a 26-yard scoring pass from Jim Roach to John David Crow.

Then, just as he had done against San Francisco last week, Shaw pitched the Giants from behind, flipping a pair of TD tosses.

Kresge Defeats Goshen Center In Baseball Tilt

Kresge, Salem champion and a state runner-up in the Hot Shoe Baseball League, defeated Goshen Center of the Damascus League, 7-4, in an exhibition game Saturday at the County Fairgrounds in Lisbon.

A grand slam home run by Doug Mowery highlighted a six-run fourth inning which brought the Salem team from a 4-1 deficit. Sharing the spotlight with Mowery was Scott Cody who replaced starting pitcher Walt Simpson on the mound in the third inning and tossed perfect ball over the final three frames.

Besides his home run, slugging Mowery also laced out a triple. Val Altomare pounded a triple, Ronnie Bezeridi had a double, Jack Detwiler a pair of singles and Terry Daily a one-base knock to round out Kresge's seven-hit attack.

Goshen's three hits included a triple by V. Weingart, and singles by M. Weingart and J. Ingledue. Cody was the winning hurler while J. Martin, who pitched all the way for Goshen, took the loss.

Two Salem High Backs Have Ankle Sprains

Quarterback Gary Devan and fullback Ron Janovec, both of whom were injured Friday night in Salem's 7-6 football victory over Farrell, Pa., are both undergoing treatment for sprained ankles in an effort to get ready for the Quakers' game this week at home against Campbell Memorial.

Coach Blaine Morton reports that Devan's injury appears to be more serious than Janovec's. Both gridders are expected to be ready to play Friday.

Indians Finish In First Division; Orioles Wind Up In Second Place

By The Associated Press

Pete Runnels won his first batting title. A couple of right-handers, Jim Perry and Chuck Estrada, were the winningest pitchers. And Baltimore's modern-day Orioles finished second, their highest yet.

But the American League champions? The New York Yankees, and no doubt about it.

With Mickey Mantle winning the home run crown with 41, one more than teammate Roger Maris, who took the RBI title with 112, the Yankees broke their AL home run record, gave Manager Casey Stengel his 10th pennant in a dozen years, and finished with a 15-game winning streak—the longest ever for a club headed into the World Series.

The Yankees, their pride stung by last season's frustrating third-place failure, bounced back for a 77-57 record, their sixth best under Casey, and crushed Baltimore's surprising bid by winning 19 of their last 21 games.

They finished with a flourish, coming from behind in Sunday's regular season wind up for an 8-7 victory over the Boston Red Sox on a two-run homer in the ninth inning by Dale Long that sent them barreling into next Wednesday's World Series opener at Pittsburgh against the Pirates—Long's onetime teammates.

Long, 34, a left-handed hitting first baseman picked up from the Giants in late August, batted .366 and drove in 10 runs during the stretch run. His game-winning shot against the seventh-place Red Sox was his third as a Yankee.

That was the 1959 home run of the year for the champs, who had set the old AL standard with 190 in 1956.

Runnels, 32, Red Sox second baseman, set out the final game and finished with a .320 average.

Al Smith, injured Chicago White Sox outfielder was second with .315.

Perry (18-10) pitched a five-hit shutout for Cleveland as the fourth-place Indians defeated the 1959 champion White Sox 4-0. Early Wynn, last year's top winner with 22, was the loser for a 13-12 record. Estrada, a rookie who lost 11, won his 18th for Baltimore Saturday.

Baltimore clinched an undisputed runner-up finish by beating Washington 2-1 on Jackie Brandt's 15th home run in the eighth inning. It was the seventh straight defeat for the fifth-place Senators, who missed the first division by winning only three of their last 19.

Last-place Kansas City beat sixth-place Detroit 2-1.
